The Art of Brevity.

The Art of Brevity.

The Spartans were distinguished for the brevity and conciseness of their speech. On one occasion during a terrible famine the inhabitants of an island in the Ægean sea sent an embaseder to Spartan who made a speech sador to Sparta, who made a speech imploring its aid. He had hardly finished before the Spartans sent him back these words, "We did not understand the end of your speech and have forgotten the beginning."

The poor, starving people chose another spokesman and impressed upon him to make his request as brief as

He therefore took with him a quantity of sacks, opened one before the as-sembly and said simply, "It is empty; fill it.'

The sack was filled as well as the others, but the chief of the assembly said as he dismissed the embassador, loaded with meal: "It wasn't necessary to inform us that the sack was empty. We saw it ourselves. Neither was it necessary to request us to fill it. We should have done it on our own account. Be less long winded next time." -Christian Endeavor World.

A Scared Corpse. "It was, I think, at the Haymarket that one of the most amusing of unrehearsed incidents occurred," says a writer in M. A. P. "The play was 'Romeo and Juliet.' Mrs. Scott Siddons was the Juliet of the occasion.

All went well until the final scene. Paris was duly slain, and Juliet lay stretched upon her bier. Just then some of the scenery caught alight somehow, but some men from behind soon extinguished it. Juliet, with com-mendable presence of mind, did not move an eyelid, but the corpse of Paris was nervous. He raised himself to a sitting posture, then got upon his feet and fied from the stage. The danger being removed, his courage returned, and the audience was afforded the pleasing spectacle of a corpse crawling pleasing spectacle of a corpse crawing along the stage from the wings to take up the proper position for the final cur-tain. It was too tremendous an anti-climax to the tragedy of the play, and the house was simply convulsed."

Ever since the days of that floral abomination, the green carnation, we have known that flowers are susceptible to the influence of drugs and can be made to change their colors by proper, or, rather, improper, treatment.
This branch of floriculture has been pursued further by inquiring people, and it seems that plants are as liable to the effects of poisons as are human beings. If you give a flower too much chloroform, it will not agree with it. In the words of the operator, "it droops and dies." It is difficult to see what is the advantage of this particular study. Every one knows that flowers can be killed far too easily. If some scientif-ic person would find a way of causing them to bloom all the year round in our climate, that would be something of a discovery-less scientific, perhaps, but much more acceptable. - London

Obliging.

At a musicale where a priest was a guest a young woman with a robust soprano voice did most of the entertaining. She was very proud of her accomplishments and her musical education. The same sores in German. ucation. She sang songs in German, Italian, French and English. When she appeared to have exhausted her repertory and the company present were wishing for a change in the programme, the clergyman paid her some compliments and added:

Why, Miss Jones, I think you could sing ad infinitum."

the obliging young woman, 'but if the music is here I'll try it."-New York Times. Growing Walking Canes.

Few men who use walking canes are aware that the growing of walking stalks is a special industry and that certain kinds of canes are not merely collected as they may be found growing in forests. One may find at any store where the sticks are sold many canes of almost precisely the same length, weight, shape and material. Canes having a tangle of roots at the handle, for instance, are much sold in England. They are grown by a "farmwho makes it a specialty to trim and shape young ash plants. To Clean Brass.

To clean brass and keep it always bright rub it with a solution of oxalic acid, one ounce of acid to one pint of, water, and alternate with a solution composed of one-half pound of rotten stone and one ounce of oxalic acid, with as much water as will make it into a stiff paste. Apply the solutions and polish with a piece of leather or an old silk handkerchief. Both solu-tions should be labeled "Poison."

Attended To. "I've sent for you," said the old mer-chant, "to paint a new sign for us. I've taken my son into partnership. "Yes, sir," said the sign painter, "but your son gave me the order for the sign several days ago."

"He did?" "Yes, sir. He told me to make it read, 'Job Lotz, Jr., & Father.' "-Pinl-

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remendy, I can recommend it with the utmost confidence. It has done good work for me and will do the same for others. I had a very se vere cough and cold and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better, three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. I am most respectfully yours for health, RALPH S. MEYERS, 64—Thirty-seventh street, Wheeling, W. Va. For sale by Richard Gibson druggist.

MEDICINAL.

Don't Treat Symptoms

Go after the cause. Stimulants and cathartics will never cure indigestion. They may temporarily relieve the system but the next meal clogs it again. The food should be digested. The nourishment—health—strength it contains should be appropriated—absorbed by the system. KODOL purifies, cleanses, strengthens and sweetens the stomach. This new discovery digests all classes of food and assists the stomach and digestive organs in assimilating and transforming it into the kind of neurishment that is taken up by the blood and fed to the tissues throughout the various organs of the body. Kodol cures indigestion and dyspepsia, thus removing the cause of all stomach troubles. Kodol gives such strength to the body that it is invaluable in all wasting diseases.

Children Thrive Kodol

"I wish to thank you for what Kodol has done for me," writes Clifton Girton, Collett, Ind,
"It cured me of dyspepsia after everything else had failed. When I tried Kodol it helped me right away. I cheerfully recommend it."
